Extent of the Loss.

The Disaster at Johnstown Growing in Proportion.

TWELVE THOUSAND LOST.

Recovering the Bodies of the Dead.

NEARLY THREE THOUSAND ALREADY SECURED.

Hundreds of Others Within Sight, But Cannot Be Properly Cared For—Remarkable Escapes from the Rushing Waters—Rapid Work in Rebuilding the Railroad—A New Graveyard Necessary. Other Echoes of the Greatest Disaster on Record.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 4.—Two hundred and fifteen bodies were received at the Pennsylvania railroad depot during the day. After being washed they were placed in caskets and arranged in long rows on the platform for identification. Only a few of the number were recognized. Some were so terribly disfigured as to be wholly unrecognizable. The waiting rooms in which the embalming was done presented a sickening sight. Human forms frightfully burned or cut or bruised were laid upon a rough board table, washed and coffined. If they were not recognized in a very short time they were placed on wagons and taken to the Adams Street school house, where they will be kept as long as possible, and then be buried in a grave bearing the legend "Unknown."

Swiftness of the Current.
To give some idea of the destructive power with which the volume of water from the lake struck East Conemaugh, it is only necessary to state that it took the round-house, with twenty-seven engines in and around it, 200 freight cars and about twenty passenger cars, including four Pullman cars. One train of passenger cars on the track was full of passengers. The conductor and engineer ran along the train warning the passengers to flee for their lives. Some started and a portion remained and went down. How many perished is not known. The track, depot, freight house and coal sheds are entirely washed away.

Mail Saved.
The mail matter on the eastbound train held there was saved in a marvelous way by two or three engines washing against the head of the train, and making a break that divided the water, which, being very rapid, did not close until the cars were passed. The mail was not even wet.

Remarkable Escapes.
There were some remarkable escapes. Mrs. John Geis was standing on Main street as the flood struck the houses, and a portion of a brick house fell on her. She was rescued through one of the windows.

Nannie Greenwood was in her house talking to her sister when the building was struck and her father, mother and two sisters were drowned, while she caught in an eddy, was whirled around into safety.

Mrs. Dr. John K. Lea, whose husband is lost, hung by her arms suspended for four hours in the water, supporting at the same time her aged mother, until both were rescued.

The most pathetic case yet brought to light is that of James Elgin. He had come to Johnstown to attend the wedding of his sister, which was to have taken place last night. He knew of the fact that the terrible disaster had taken place, but had no idea that his family were involved. His agony may be imagined rather than described when learning on his arrival yesterday that his mother and three sisters had been drowned, and his father demented over the terrible afflictions. The old gentleman was crying like a child and asking those he met: "Did you see them? Did you see them go down? they will come back for the wedding. She is gone for her bridal wreath."

Recovering the Bodies.
The total number of bodies recovered is now estimated by Adjutant General Hastings and the undertakers at 2,300, but the general has wired Governor Beaver that he believes the loss will amount to from 5,000 to 8,000 lives, and that time would produce ample proof of this. In order to facilitate the ascertaining of the number of the dead, all surviving residents of Johnstown and Cambria City have been required to register at various designated places. While the estimates of the undertakers is that the number of bodies recovered is 2,300, the actual record at the different improvised morgues in this vicinity do not show this, but the reason is mainly that at first, before order was established. Many corpses were buried immediately upon identification, without the formality of registering. The undertakers, however, had matters systematized to a wonderful extent by Sunday evening, and their services were most valuable.

day evening, and their services were most valuable.

The Dead at Ninevah.
Yesterday a corn patch of about an acre in extent at Ninevah was dug over by a volunteer force, and 138 corpses were recovered. The manner in which the ghastly find was made was purely accidental. A man walking over the field kicked at a clump of marl; overturning it, uncovered a woman's face. This indicated a rich find, and the people around were called in to assist, with the results above stated. This increases the list of dead in Ninevah to 230. The new dead were found under about four feet of alluvial deposit.

A Pitiable Story.
At 6 o'clock last night George Irwin, a resident of Hillsdale, Westmoreland county, was discovered in a dying condition in a clump of bushes just above the tracks of the Pennsylvania railway, about a mile below Johnstown. When stretched upon two railroad ties near the track below, his tongue extended from his mouth and he gasped as if death was at hand. With the assistance of stimulants he was in a degree revived and told a reporter the following story: "I was visiting friends in Johnstown on Friday when the flood came up. We were submerged without a moment's warning. I was taken from the window of the house, in which I was then a prisoner, by Mr. Hay, the druggist at Johnstown, but lost my footing and was not rescued. I clung to a log until I struck the works of the Cambria Iron company, when I caught on the roof of the building. I remained there for nearly an hour, when I was knocked again from my position by a piece of a raft. I floated on top of this until I got down here and I stuck in an apple tree. I saw and heard a number of other unfortunate victims when swept by me appealing for some one to save them. One woman and two children were floating along in apparent safety when they struck the corner of a building and all went down together, and I would have rather have died than have been compelled to witness that sight. I have not had a bite to eat since Friday night, and, as heaven is my judge, I don't feel hungry. I am afraid my stomach is gone and I am about done for."

He was taken to a hospital by several soldiers and railroad men who rescued him.

Newspaper Enterprise.
It rained New York newspaper men for half an hour yesterday afternoon. None of them had reached here before. The Sun men got out off at Harrisburg, went back to New York, then to Albany, then to Buffalo, then to Cleveland, then to Ashtabula, then to Pittsburgh and here by special train on the Baltimore and Ohio. The Tribune, World and Herald men went down from Harrisburg to Chambersburg and drove from there here, 140 miles, without getting out of their carriage seat. It cost these men $670 to get here from New York.

Imposing on Charity.
A boarding house crowd of twelve were arrested in a body down at Morrisville yesterday. They had been going to the relief committee and each representing himself as the head of a family, and drawing supplies. With these they had opened an impromptu grocery and clothing store and were doing a thriving business.

No Need of the Military.
The burgess of Johnstown and the acting chief of police deny that there was any one shot by ex-Burgess L. Dick. The only man shot was punctured in the leg by Constable Callahan for refusing to stop when ordered to do so on being detected in a theft.

There are now on duty in and about the ruins 400 police and deputies, which the burgess thinks is ample without the assistance of the military. Very few arrests have been made by order of the burgess. All men who refused to go to work are given twenty-four hours to get out of town.

Warning Just in Time.
The destruction of life at East Conemaugh was less than reported, not more than twenty-five having perished. The property, however, for three squares up from the river was totally destroyed. About 4:25 on Friday afternoon, word was telegraphed from South Fork that the dam was breaking. Almost immediately the whistles of several locomotives were blown so long and loud that the people, realizing that something was wrong, rushed from their homes, and seeing the water coming, fled to the mountains, but twenty-five being caught in the flood.

Ex-Postmaster General Hutton is safe at Ebensburg. William Henry Smith, manager of the Associated Press, says they were on the same train and escaped together.

Stephen Collins, assistant superintendent of mails, has arrived here and made arrangements for resumption of the service east and west to-morrow.

Almost a Riot.
Yesterday evening Robert Bridgman, a letter carrier of Johnstown, mounted a wagon and began a speech to 200 men on the horrors of the "Huns," the necessity of good workmen for the clearing away of the debris and rescuing the dead. He closed with a bitter attack on the lazy "Huns" and "Poles," who have lived in the valley only a short time and refuse to turn a hand towards the relief of their suffering neighbors, yet are begging and even stealing the provisions which the people of the United States are sending here. The crowd soon numbered nearly 1,000, which greeted Bridgman's words with cheers and shouts of approval. The feelings of the mob intensified in bitterness to such an alarming extent that an outbreak was feared, but it finally subsided to a calm, determined body, which adopted resolutions requesting that nothing be given to the "Huns" and "Poles" unless they worked for it, and if they would not work that they be warned to vacate the premises.

A Prayer Meeting in the Flood.

While the flood was at its height Rev. Beam, Episcopal minister, and 200 others took refuge in Alma hall. The water began to rise about the building and dash about its sides with awful fury. When Mr. Beam called to prayer every one responded, and while the voices of all rose in supplication to the God of storms, Alma hall was saved and all in it. Rev. J. C. Grier, Presbyterian minister, held services in Morrell institute hall—another building which withstood the fury of the storm—Sunday. Rev. Mr. Devlin's father and sister were saved. It was reported that they were lost.

A New Graveyard Started.

A big new graveyard was started on the mountain side above Johnstown. There victims of Friday's disaster will be buried in ground belonging to the Cambria Iron company. The graves will be numbered and no unidentified body will be interred until a complete description is taken.

Dynamite to Be Used.

The twenty-five acres of debris accumulated by the Pennsylvania bridge over the Conemaugh will be dynamited. The idea is to disintegrate the mass, start the logs down the river, catch the bodies thus dislodged and inter them as rapidly as possible.

Horrible Sights.

From the banks many charnel remains of victims of flames and flood are plainly visible as the receding waters reluctantly give up their dead. Beneath almost every log or blackened beam, a glittering skull or the blanched remnants of ribs or limbs mark all that remains of lives hopes and dreams.

The Fire Put Out.

Since 10 o'clock Sunday night the fire engines have constantly played on burning ruins. At times the fire seems almost extinguished, but fitful flames suddenly break out afresh in some new quarter. The sensation of the morning has been the united remonstrance of the physicians against the extinguishment of the burning wreck. They maintain, with a philosophy that to anxious searchers seems heartless, that hundreds, if not thousands of lifeless and decaying bodies lie beneath this mass of burning ruins. "It would better be," they say, "to permit nature's greatest scavenger, the flames, to pursue his work unmolested than to further decay the horde of putrefying bodies that lie beneath this debris. There can be but one result. Days will elapse before the rubbish can be sufficiently removed to permit the recovery of these bodies; and long ere that, every corpse will be a putrid mass, yielding forth those frightful emanations of decaying human flesh that can give but one result—the dreadful typhus. Every battlefield has demonstrated the necessity of the hasty internment of decaying bodies, and the stench that already arises is a forerunner of the impending danger. Burn the wreck! Burn the wreck!"

A loud cry of indignation arose from the lips of the vast multitude, and the warnings of science were lost in the eager demands of those that sought the remains of friends. The hose was again turned upon the hissing mass and rapidly the flames yielded to the supremacy of water.

Some Idea of the Loss of Life.

It is almost impossible to conceive the extent of the smoking ruins. An area of eight or ten acres above the dam is covered to a depth of forty feet with shattered houses, borne from the resident center of Johnstown. In each of those it is estimated there were from one to twenty-five people. This is accepted as data upon which to estimate the number that perished on this spot, and, if the data be correct, the bodies that lie beneath these ruins must number into the hundreds, if not the thousands.

The scene at the lower end of the city is beyond description. The half has not been told and never can be as to the full extent of the awful wreck.

Martial Law Prevails.

The town is now under martial law and everyone who goes about the place is challenged and required to give an account of himself. The water has subsided to a great extent and the streets in the main part of the town are free from water. The falling water has laid bare the terrible work of the flood and the full extent of the disaster is only being ascertained now. The streets are one sickening, foul smelling mass of wood and debris, and the work of searching for bodies has only fairly begun.

Loss of Life Growing.

The latest estimates put the loss of life at from 10,000 to 12,000.

A Baltimore and Ohio conductor, Frank McDonald, witnessed the first awful crash against the stone bridge. He said when he first saw the flood it was thirty feet high and gradually rose to at least forty feet. "I certainly think I saw 1,000 bodies go over the bridge. The first house that came down struck the bridge and at once took fire, and as fast as the others came down they were consumed. I believe I am safe in saying I saw a thousand bodies burn. It reminded me of a lot of flies on fly paper, struggling to get away, with no hope and no chance to save them."

Touching Scenes.

At the Kearnyville morgue one little boy named Elrod, in finding his father and mother both dead, seized a hatchet, and for some time wouldn't let one enter the place, claiming that the people were lying to him and wanted to rob him of his father and mother.

One sad incident was the sight of two coffins in the Gauntier grave yard, while nobody was around to bury them except a young woman gazing at them in a dazed manner, while the rain beat on her unprotected head.

Iron Works to Be Rebuilt.

Col. James A. McMillan, of the Cambria iron works, said last night: "In from ten to twelve days we will have our works in operation, and I feel confident we will be finishing rails at our own works inside of fifty days. As we employ about 5,000 men in our works, I think our renewal of operations will give the people more encouragement than can be imagined."

Rebuilding the Railroad.

The Pennsylvania railroad has spanned the Conemaugh and at 9 o'clock yesterday evening ran a train one mile above the Johnstown station. This is a most remarkable work.

FROM PITTSBURG.

Accounts of the Great Disaster as Gathered at That City.

PITTSBURG, June 4.—A steambot was seenced by the Allegheny city councilmanic committee yesterday and will leave to-day to explore the Allegheny river up as far as the Kiskiminitus for dead bodies. The latter will be taken out of the water as a sanitary precaution.

Asking for Workingmen.

A message for the chamber of commerce was received last night from Adj. Gen. Hastings, asking for 1,000 men with axes, picks, shovels, etc.

Establishing Railroad Connection.

Train Dispatcher Culp stated yesterday that by 4:30 they would have two tracks laid to the bridge at Johnstown, and by 8 o'clock two tracks would be laid two miles east of Johnstown. There are 5,000 laborers on the ground.

Superintendent Patton, of the Baltimore and Ohio railway, announced last night the Baltimore and Ohio would be open to-morrow morning for through traffic to the east. The road has been open to the west all the time.

In the Water Seventeen Hours.

Dr. H. Phillips, of the east end, has just returned from Johnstown. He was visiting his mother and there were five people in the house besides himself when the flood came. Dr. Phillips was the only person who escaped death, and he was only rescued after being in the water for seventeen hours.

Died to Save Others.

A Times' Johnstown special says: Last night while coming down Main street my attention was attracted to a beautiful woman, whose facial expression told of a broken heart. Being asked what she had lost, she said: "The kindest hearted husband that ever graced a home would still be with me had he not sacrificed his life in the rescue of others. For ten minutes before the dreadful torrent came down upon us he had been carrying people from the houses across the street to the second floor of our own house. He crossed the street the seventh time to rescue a lady, but failed to return. That is all I know. My heart will burst with grief."

The lady was Mrs. Lindsay, the wife of the most prominent wallpaper man of Johnstown, and the daughter of Mr. Ludwig, the wholesale liquor dealer.

The Loss at Renova.

RENOVA, Pa., June 4.—This town suffered about $250,000 loss by Friday night's flood. Telegraphic communication has just been restored. Three-quarters of the town was under water, and many people are homeless, their houses being ruined. Railroad bridges all through this section were carried away. The flood came suddenly and people had to flee for life, saving nothing else. At Lockhaven the damage was equally great. The lumber industries at Emporium and other points suffer at least $1,000,000. The loss of life is small.

A Hospital Established.

A regular hospital has been opened on Bedford street. Dr. Foster, of Pittsburgh, is in charge. Dr. Alexander E. McCandless, the sheriff, is his assistant. The physicians have been divided into regular hospital corps, and placed in charge of the various departments. A drug store has been opened in the rear of the hospital, containing also a large supply of surgical supplies.

Army Officers at Johnstown.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—At the request of Adj. Gen. Hastings, Maj. Gen. Schofield, acting secretary of war, two army officers, who volunteered their service, has been detailed to assist Gen. Hastings in maintaining order at Johnstown. These officers are Capt. Cagely and Lieut. Miller.

A Baby's Perilous Trip.

PITTSBURG, June 4.—John Crimes, while searching amid the debris in the Allegheny opposite Verona, came across a baby snugly resting in its cradle. It had floated a long distance on its perilous trip, and had a most miraculous escape.

An editor arrested at Pembroke, Ky., for drunkenness, attacked an officer with a sword concealed in his cane.

The body of Dr. Harry Glover was found on the sidewalk at Terre Haute, Ind. He is supposed to have died from heart disease.

President Harrison is in constant telegraphic communication with Governor Beaver concerning the Johnstown calamity.

Nell Brown, Jr., reading clerk of the National house of representatives, was run over by a railroad train at Nashville and instantly killed.

Cincinnati merchants yesterday subscribed nearly $7,000 for the relief of the Johnstown sufferers. Relief meetings were held throughout the country.

TUESDAY, JUNE 4, 1889.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

AUGUST ELECTION, 1889.

For State Treasurer,
S. G. SHARP,
Of Fayette County.
For State Senator,
CHARLES B. POYNITZ, Of Mason County.

Take Notice, Democrats.

Precinct meetings are to be held Saturday, June 8th, 1889, to choose delegates to the Convention to be held at Maysville Monday, June 10th, 1889, to nominate a candidate for Representative. The meetings will be called to order at 2 p. m. THOS. J. CHENOWETH, Chairman Democratic Executive Committee.

THE addition of a few factories to those we already have would soon make a perceptible increase in the business of our merchants. Manufacturing enterprises are the life of every town.

THE Republican party in Kentucky is placed in a serious dilemma by the refusal of Colonel Barrett to accept the nomination for State Treasurer. It will be a difficult matter to get any one to lead them in the coming contest.

ILLINOIS Democrats are grooming General Palmer for the next Presidential race. He has the U. S. Senatorial stakes in his own State to win first, however, a victory in that contest would undoubtedly bring him to the front for the other nomination.

SWORE declined the Republican nomination for State Treasurer in advance, Barrett has refused to accept it and the honor now goes a-begging. Can't some bobtail be found to amuse the crowd while the thoroughbred Sharp canters around the course?

HON. O. W. ROOR, of Newport, is about the only Republican mentioned now as likely to accept the nomination for State Treasurer. This leads the Owensboro Inquirer to remark that it's "Root, hog, or die," with Kentucky Republicans at this stage of the game.

A CANDIDATE will now have to be found by the State Central Committee, and as the time is short and fear of being elected seems prevalent among Republicans, that body will have to hasten itself vigorously to find a suitable person to put on their ticket.—Louisville Commercial.

PRESIDENT HARRISON has identified himself with the "White Man's League" of the South by appointing Lewis E. Parsons to be United States Attorney for the Middle and Northern District of Alabama. Parsons organized this League, and it is not to be wondered at that the colored Republicans are indignant over his appointment.

CANDIDATE EVERETT swears that it is not so. Says he is no relation of Pete Everett's whatever.—Maysville Democrat.

Mr. Everett requests the BULLETIN to say that he is a relative of Pete Everett. He never goes back on his kin. Like the General, too, he's good at making fellows run, and he's going to make his opponents hustle before he gets through with the race for Assessor.

MAINE has passed a tramp law which is proving very effectual and much good is expected to follow from it. It provides that any person who asks food, lodging or charity in any form, shall be deemed a tramp and imprisoned at hard labor.—Exchange.

Why not include the bummers and unprincipled scamps who make life a burden for every man who announces himself for office. A punishment like that would "fit the case."

THE name of Mr. John W. Alexander was unintentionally omitted yesterday from the ticket for the coming Democratic primary. It was not on the list when handed in at this office, and in the hurry the omission was not noticed. The mistake was due, no doubt, to the fact that Mr. Alexander has no opposition. He deserves and is conceded the nomination.

THERE are about $10,000 worth of barrels used every year by Maysville's three distilleries. Not a single one of these barrels is manufactured here. The money paid out for them goes to help keep alive and build up other places. Why not keep it at home and let it go to build up our own fair city? We are all interested in the prosperity of Maysville, and every little enterprise will help along the good work.

A few years ago a certain one of Maysville's neighboring cities was looked upon as a "dead town," but a few live, energetic fellows went to work and have succeeded in getting the place on the highway to prosperity. Many enterprises have been established at this neighboring city, among them five or six large shoe factories, all of which are doing a prosperous business. A few men with plenty vim and vigor can do wonders at carrying a cause to a victorious ending.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 31.—In the General Assembly this morning a report from the Committee on Elections concerning the Rhode Island bribery cases were read. The report stated that seventy-five to one hundred men were bribed to vote for John C. Sheffield, Jr., (Republican), who holds the seat, and that from $25 to $100 was paid for votes. The corruption revealed by the report was almost impossible to believe. The Republicans made counter charges against the Democrats of similar proceedings. With the report was a resolution that Sheffield was not legally elected, and not entitled to his seat in the House, and that Christopher E. Chapin was entitled to the seat held by Sheffield. The House voted 40 to 21 to continue the matter to the January session.

One is forced to the conclusion, after reading the above, that votes in Rhode Island come high, but the Republicans have to have 'em. "Little Rhody" is about to swing 'round into the Democratic column.

PRESIDENT HARRISON is very slow in dishing out the spoils, but the hungry Republicans are to blame for it to a very great extent. There are 150 applicants for one Consular place in South America. It takes a long while to run through all these petitions for office, and the scramble for the other places is just as lively.

FRANKFORT people profess to believe that the State constitution does not need revision. In this they are actuated by selfish motives. As the Louisville Times remarks "the fear of losing the capital overrides all other considerations" with them.

THE Republican State Central Committee has issued a call for a meeting at Louisville June 12, "to which all Republicans are invited." They will try to induce some one to run for Treasurer.

Stock, Field and Farm.

The crop bulletin of the Kentucky State Weather Service for the week ending Saturday is as follows:

During the past week the State was deluged with the heaviest rains in a year. The average amount for the entire State probably exceeds three inches. This largely curtails the deficiency which had assumed such alarming proportions during the past month. Nine inches of rain are required, however, before the normal fall will have been acquired.

The temperature of the week was abnormally low, and the damp, cloudy weather alone prevented ruinous frosts. For the first time in months the soil is thoroughly saturated, and with warm weather and plenty of sunshine a most decided improvement in the crop prospects will result.

The prospects for tobacco are much brighter than at any other time during the past month, although some scarcity of plants is reported; some have already been set, and the present week will probably see a large proportion of the crop in the ground. The present damp condition of the soil, with a little clear, warm weather, will insure rapid growth of the plants.

Small grains of all kinds are reported to be greatly improved, and the prospects for a good corn crop are excellent. The rains have revived the grasses in pastures and meadows, and the outlook for the crop is very promising. The prospect for fruit of all kinds is excellent. Strawberries are reported to be especially fine and plentiful.

The eastbound C. and O. special yesterday morning, bearing President Ingalls and party, struck and killed one of Zweigart Bros.' horses. The accident happened near the mouth of Beasley's branch, the animal being thrown into the river by the force of the collision. Appraisers valued the horse at $200.

DURING the month of May there were only seven clear days, with thirteen fair and eleven cloudy. Rain fell on fourteen days, the total precipitation being 2.52. The highest temperature was on the 10th and 17th, when the thermometer marked 90, and the lowest on the 23rd, when it went down to 38.

A SPECIAL from Portsmouth, Sunday, says: "A person giving his name as J. F. Clark, and claiming to be a Maysville (Ky.) veterinary surgeon, stole a horse and buggy from John Dice's livery stable, threw the buggy in the canal and made away with the horse. Officers are in pursuit. A horse and rig supposed to belong at West Union, which Clark brought here with him, remain uncalled for."

The exercises will commence at precisely 8 o'clock, and seats will be reserved for patrons who are present before that time. All are cordially invited.

THE Webster Sentinel says: "Something unique in the way of a suit for damages has been filed in the Crittenden Circuit Court. Some time since John Horning was in Shady Grove and complained of having a bad cold, and his physician informed him that it was possible he might be taking the measles, which proved to be a fact. During the day Frank O'Neal met Horning and contracted a case of measles. Now O'Neal bases his suit upon the fact that Horning was warned of his illness by his physician and should have left town, thus avoiding the danger of giving the disease to others."

Lorenzo Siebert at 813 Summit street, is one of two persons who drew one-twentieth of ticket No. 10,420 in the March drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery. A reporter for the Blade called on him and asked him to tell about it. "We are all poor men, and I tell you there were three happy old men when we learned that we had $5,000 to divide up. We got the money in a few days, through the express company, and I have put mine out at interest, to have something in my old age," Mr. Siebert is about 60 years old, his partner, a middle-aged man, and Mr. Haas is 84.—Toledo (O.) Blade, April 9.

THE United States Express Company has secured the river route, and Maysville will enjoy the luxury of two express offices without any diminution of the double-jointed back-action rising infection scale under which the patronizing public now groans.—Maysville Republican.

It would be an expensive luxury from what we learn. If the United States Express Company establishes an office here rates will be higher than ever. That seems strange, some people will say, but it is true. The big express companies are all in a "pool," and where two or more of them do business in the same city "pool" rates are charged, and these pool rates are higher than the rates heretofore charged in Maysville. As long as the Adams Express people have the field here to themselves they can fix rates as low as they please.

Railway News.

The fast express train over the C. & O. covered 170 miles in three hours and forty-two minutes a few days since. The train consisted of engine and five coaches.

A special passed east yesterday morning over the C. & O. with President M. E. Ingalls and about seventy-five members of the commercial clubs of Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis on a trip over the road.

The C. & O.'s and K. C.'s new depot at Covington is finished. The Covington correspondent of one of the Cincinnati papers doesn't like it at all and declares it looks like an elevated chicken coop more than a depot.

M. E. Ingalls is said to be giving the Big Four-Bee-Line consolidation scheme but little thought, his chief business now being to develop the Chesapeake and Ohio road, and with this the stock is steadily advancing.

At Covington, Charles H. Coster, Trustee, leased to the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, a tract of land known as the ten acre lot for a term of one thousand years, at an annual rent of four thousand dollars.

The State Railroad Commissioners have found the Kentucky Central guilty of over-charging the people of Lancaster on freight. They gave judgment against the road in favor of J. W. West for $1,775.35 and $100 for attorney fee and costs; to B. A. Burdett $61.42 and $25 for attorney fee and costs; to Ward & Bro. $441.97 and $75 for attorney fee and costs.

That Blythe Estate.

[Louisville Times.] THE MAYSVILLE EVENING BULLETIN has discovered another heir to the great Blythe estate of San Francisco in the person of Wm. Blythe, an employee of the Maysville cotton mills. William is a nephew of the deceased bachelor millionaire, and his wife is a niece. The two have employed the Hon. W. H. Wadsworth to look after their interests. The estate is said to amount to about five millions, but if elaborate reports in the New York Herald of some months ago were correct, the Kentucky claimants are throwing good money away after had in trying to obtain a slice of the immense fortune.

Some of the Kentucky Blythes live at Fulton, and have been at work upon the matter for some time. It was stated by the Herald that the millionaire's name was not Blythe, that being only assumed, and if so it is extremely unlikely that any of his money will ever come to Kentucky. These immense fortunes left by childless millionaires and waiting to be claimed by poor relatives are veritable will-o'-the-wisps.

There is scarcely any large family in the State some of whose members are not informed some time or other that great wealth of this sort is waiting for them, but their hopes are never realized.

Goggin, of Washington precinct, with Charles W. York surety; J. B. Terhune, of Dover precinct, with R. C. Kirk and J. C. Grove sureties; J. R. Morgan, of Murphysville, with Patrick Morgan surety.

The annual report of the Mayslick and Sardis Turnpike Company was filed. It showed the following: Tolls received the past year, $358.45; expenditures, $294.50, leaving a balance of $63.95.

Michael Duley, a native of Ireland who came to this country a minor under the age of eighteen years, appeared in court, renounced allegiance to every foreign prince, &c., and was admitted as a citizen.

The Apron Bazar a Success.

The apron bazar given last evening by the Young Ladies' Society of the Christian Church was a big success. The room formerly occupied by Mr. W. E. Grimes in the Cox Building had been tastefully decorated for the occasion with flowers and shrubbery, and was crowded until a late hour. The young ladies succeeded in disposing of most of the aprons. The refreshment tables were well patronized, the receipts of the evening amounting altogether to about $83.

ATTENTION is called to the advertisement of Grimes, Bramel & Co. in this issue. They have opened their undertaking and furniture establishment on Sutton street, near the postoffice, and invite a share of the public patronage. They have in stock a full line of parlor, bed-room, dining-room and kitchen furniture of the latest styles. A first-class undertaker and embalmer will give careful attention to all orders in that department.

Camp Meeting.

The Camp Meeting under the auspices of the Plymouth Baptist Church will commence Sunday, July 7th, and close on Sunday, July 21st, '89, at Messrs. C. P. Dieterlen & Bro.'s Park.

The Samoan Treaty.

It Has Not Reached the State Department,

BUT IT IS HOURLY EXPECTED.

It will Not Be Made Public Until Sent to the Senate for Ratification—Postoffice Appointments to Slacken Until Congress Meets—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The full text of the Samoan treaty, as practically finished at Berlin, has not reached the state department, but is expected to be here by cable on Wednesday, at the latest. Different clauses of the agreement have been cabled here as fast as they have been agreed upon, and have been returned to Berlin with such suggestions as the president has seen fit to make as the changes. All of these changes in the clauses have not yet been agreed to by other members of the conference, and until this is done the full text to the treaty cannot be received here.

It is expected that the cabinet will, at its meeting on Friday, give the treaty thorough consideration, and unless radical changes are suggested the commissioners will be authorized to sign at once. As the treaty will have to be ratified by the senate the state department will make no part of it public until it has gone to that body. The department asserts that this conference agreement amounts to a full-fledged treaty between these powers, and the purpose of conference is not, as has been stated, merely to construe the existing treaty.

Smaller points yet to be settled by the commissioners are upon the question of concessions asked for by the German government looking to the isolation of the German plantation in Samoa from settlement, where possible, for the prevention of further disagreements between natives and German residents.

A Halt in Postoffice Appointments.
WASHINGTON, June 4.—Presidential postoffice appointments will slacken up from now on until congress meets, unless in cases where removals are made before the expiration of a term. There were about a thousand postal confirmations made by the senate four years ago. These terms will not expire until next winter, when they will amount about one hundred or two hundred a month, just fast enough to make things interesting.

Two Appointments.
WASHINGTON, June 4.—Two appointments were made yesterday. Charles L. Knapp, of New York, to be consul general at Montreal, and Alex. J. Reed, of Wisconsin, to be consul at Dublin. The Montreal appointment disappoints about fifty candidates for that place, which pays $4,000 per annum. There were applicants from nearly every state, but the majority were New Yorkers.

The New Census Bureau.
WASHINGTON, June 4.—The census bureau will open operations about next December, and the two or three thousand applicants who will then have failed to become consuls can probably get government employment as enumerators.

The President's Callers.
WASHINGTON, June 4.—The president saw no callers until the hour for the usual reception at 1 o'clock had arrived. There were about seventy-five people in line to pay their respects.

RELIEF FOR THE SUFFERERS.

A Generous Public Responding to the Cry of Distress.

NEW YORK, June 4.—About 200 leading citizens met at the city hall and formed a Johnstown relief committee with Mayor Grant as chairman. This committee appointed an executive committee headed by Gen. Sherman. An address to the citizens was drawn up and adopted and about $60,000 was subscribed on the spot. The Stock Exchange raised $15,000, the Produce Exchange $10,000, and the Mail and Express $7,500 in a short time. These amounts will be largely increased. The other exchanges are also raising large sums.

Theaters are arranging benefit performances. The police and fire departments have authorized firemen and policemen to circulate subscription lists. The newspapers have all opened funds.

Pennsylvania Railroad's Relief.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, held yesterday, a resolution was unanimously passed donating $250,000 in aid of the sufferers by the recent flood at Johnstown and other points upon the line of the road. This in addition to the $5,000 subscribed by the company at Pittsburgh.

Before the meeting adjourned the members of the board and the executive officers of the company who were present contributed individually an additional $3,000, to be expended through the committee on finance.

Governor Beaver's Proclamation.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 4.—Governor Beaver has issued a proclamation, in which he says: "The most conservative estimate places the loss of life at 5,000 human beings and property at $25,000,000. Shoes and clothing of all sorts for men, women and children are greatly needed. Other localities have suffered to some extent in the same way, but not in the same degree. Late advices would seem to indicate that there is a great loss of life and property along the west branch of the Susquehanna, and localities from which we can get no definite information."

Chicago's Contribution.

CHICAGO, June 4.—At a mass meeting of the business men and others held here, liberal donations in money were subscribed and a draft for $5,000 was forwarded to the chairman of the relief committee at Pittsburgh, for the benefit of the sufferers by the flood in Pennsylvania. Another draft for a like amount will go forward to-morrow. The sum subscribed during this week will probably exceed $20,000. Subscriptions are being paid with all the associations and societies throughout the city.

Relief From Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 4.—Governor Taylor has issued a proclamation calling on the people of Tennessee, in the name of God and humanity, to give of their abundance in aid of the stricken people of Pennsylvania. He calls on all state banks to act as repositories. Relief measures have been set on foot here and public meetings will be held at once.

The American has started a fund for the sufferers which is growing handsomely. A car loaded with clothing, etc., was sent out this morning.

Cincinnati Responds.

CINCINNATI, June 4.—The mayor has issued a proclamation calling for aid in behalf of the Johnstown flood sufferers. The chamber of commerce has appointed a committee to receive contributions and forward the same to their destinations. A large amount has already been subscribed and sent to Johnstown, and more will follow to-morrow.

Relief from New Jersey.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., June 4.—Mayor Van Cleeve called a meeting of citizens last night, at which $500 was subscribed and a committee appointed to raise funds for the Johnstown sufferers. The Masons and other bodies are co-operating.

Good Work in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, June 4.—Mayor Chapin has opened a Johnstown relief fund, and the theatres, newspapers and clubs are doing good work in a similar direction.

A RACE WAR.

Whites Cause the Shutting Down of a Mill Because Negroes are Employed.

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 4.—The bad feeling which has existed here for some time between the whites and negroes in Gretna, opposite New Orleans, broke out again yesterday, but without serious results. The Union oil mill, which employs a force composed of half negroes and half whites, was waited on by the latter, and ordered to discharge all its negro employees. To the demand the manager responded by closing down the mill and discharging all the hands, white and black. The negro employees, on leaving the mill, were stoned by white hoodlums, but no one was seriously injured.

A committee of whites waited on Mr. Wagner, the Republican sheriff of the parish, Jefferson, and informed him that the administration of the parish affairs was not satisfactory to them. He was compelled to suspend a negro and appoint a white man in his place as chief deputy, and also to remove the prisoners confined in the jail to the penitentiary. Last night Gretna was placarded with posters warning Wagner to appoint none but white men to office. If he refuses, an attempt will be made to remove him by force. The managers of the Union Oil company waited on the governor and asked him to protect their employees from violence.

THE CRONIN INQUEST.

Nothing Startling Developed from Examining Witnesses.

CHICAGO, June 4.—The evidence given at the coroner's investigation in the Cronin case yesterday, was almost entirely a repetition of facts already published, dealing with the identification of the body, the hiring of the rig, renting of the cottage and of the flat on Clark street, and the other occurrences preliminary to the disappearance and discovery of the body.

The only new development was the statement of Carlson, the owner of the cottage, that P. O. Sullivan, the ice man, had told them that he was acquainted with the mysterious tenants and would be responsible for the rent. Mrs. Conklin and Frank Seaman, both testified in response to questions that Cronin had said that Alexander Sullivan wanted him out of the way, and that his friends would know where to look in case he was murdered. The inquest will be resumed.

ALMOST MIRACULOUS.

A Bullet Strikes the Spectacles of an Old Man and He Escapes Uninjured.

CINCINNATI, June 4.—George Reese, an old man living at 38 Siller street, has an almost miraculous escape from serious and permanent injury, early yesterday morning. He was on his way to work, and was passing the corner of Sixth and Lodge alley when a bullet struck the right glass of his spectacles. The glass was shattered, and the bullet fell at his feet. He was so startled at the occurrence that he could not speak for a minute, but shortly recovered. Investigation disclosed that he was uninjured, even by the particles of glass. It is believed that the ball was fired from a Flobert rifle from a neighboring grocer, and the matter is being thoroughly investigated by the police, to whom the affair was reported.

Sixteen Lives Lost.

RACINE, Wis., June 4.—Robert York, claiming to be second mate of the schooner Isaac Houston, tells a story of the Houston being shipwrecked and sixteen lives lost. He says the Houston when six miles off Milwaukee, during the storm of Friday night, broke completely in two, and Capt. Hudson, his wife and two children, First Mate Fowler and eleven of the crew perished. York also claims that a sailor named Joseph Bouts, and himself locked arms over a spar, and after being in the water thirty-two hours came ashore this side of Milwaukee. Lake men here give York's story little credence.

Killed by His Wife.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 4.—Joseph W. Arnold, a wealthy farmer, who resided two miles from this city, was shot and killed yesterday by his wife, as the result of a domestic quarrel. Mrs. Arnold is in jail.

Steamer Ashore.

HALIFAX, June 4.—The steamer Bossie Morris from Montreal for Sydney, C. B., went ashore early this morning near White Point, Aspy bay, and is supposed to be a total loss. The crew were saved.
